

Rails Merger Okayed

Lines Must Sell Other Holdings

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Interstate Commerce Commission has approved the consolidation of the Norfolk & Western, Nickel Plate, and Wabash railroads into a 7,450-mile system.

The ICC, in announcing the decision today, said the Pennsylvania Railroad must get rid of all of its financial interests in the N & W and the Wabash, because the Pennsylvania "is in a position to extend its control over the proposed system."

The transaction involves the merger of the Nickel Plate—formerly known as the New York, Chicago & St. Louis Railroad—into the Norfolk & Western, and the subsequent lease of the Wabash.

The result would be a rail network extending from the port of Hampton Roads, Va., to the Great Lakes and Midwest.

The decision was adopted June 24 by a 10-1 vote. The ICC said the consolidation may not take place unless the Pennsylvania notifies the commission by Sept. 16—30 days after the order takes effect—of its intent to divest.

No particular plan of divestiture was specified, but the ICC said all holdings in the new system must be disposed of over a 10-year period.

Sues to Bar Candidates For Congress

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—Dr. Rutledge Gish of Fulton, Mo., today filed suit in the Missouri Supreme Court seeking to bar the inclusion, on the 9th District Congressional ballot, all those who filed during a special five-day period following the death of veteran Rep. Clarence Cannon, D-Elsberry.

Cannon died in Washington early May 13.

Gish was the only Democrat to file, besides Cannon, before the regular filing deadline last April 27. His position is that the new law reopening filing for five days on the death of an incumbent is unconstitutional because it is a special law.

During the period 15 more Democrats and two more Republicans filed. The ballot in the 9th now contains 16 Democrats, four Republicans and one "non-partisan."

Gish said his attorney, William Seibel of Jefferson City, made written demand on Secy. of State Warren E. Hearnes July 8 that the county clerk be notified those who filed during the special period should be stricken from the ballot.

Most ballots have been printed now, however, and it would be a monumental job to strike the names.

Violent Viet Action Over The Weekend

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Vietnamese government forces drove off a Communist siege over the weekend in the most violent action in the Mekong Delta in several weeks. Both sides suffered heavy casualties.

No American advisers were involved in the clash over the mud-walled fort at Vinh Cheo, 100 miles south of Saigon.

Using the 56 militiamen garrisoning the fort as bait, the Communist guerrillas lured four Civil Guard companies to the outpost and opened fire from ambush.

The badly mauled Civil Guard forces were withdrawn Saturday night. Four regular Vietnamese battalions lifted the siege Sunday.

The Communist forces killed 39 and wounded 129 in the ambush, the battle and the looting of a nearby village. One Vietnamese officer estimated Communist losses at 300, but American advisers said they doubted more than 100 were killed or wounded.

CHANGED HER MIND? — Leo Durocher chats with Carolyn Morin, 26, daughter of a Middlebury, Vt., bricklayer who has filed a $150,000 alienation of affection suit against Durocher. Miss Morin testified at the Middlebury courthouse that she "might reconsider" burying her father because "he's so wonderful." Durocher is accused of stealing the affections of Carolyn's mother.

Pay Raises for Many Workers

Pension Plan for Farmers Announced by Khrushchev

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet Premier Khrushchev today announced old age pensions for collective farmers and pay raises for doctors, teachers and employees in housing and service industries.

Khrushchev said the farmers pension measure, affecting about 6.5 million peasants, was of "tremendous historical importance." Most of them have been outside the pension system.

In a speech at the opening of the summer session of the Supreme Soviet, or Parliament, Khrushchev said the agricultural position had improved so that farmers can now be brought under the system.

The pension plan described by Khrushchev envisions minimum and a maximum of $112.20 be-monthly payments of $13.20 and a maximum of $112.20 beginning next year.

The payments, however, were tightly hitched to wage levels reached before retirement age 65 for men and 60 for women.

"Let every person know that if he works well today, he will

New Fears Of Clash On Cyprus

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—The possibility of another explosion in the simmering Cyprus dispute faced the U.N. peacekeeping force today after it reported the landing of reinforcements to both Greek and Turkish Cypriots.

Archbishop Makarios, Greek Cypriot president of Cyprus, convened an emergency session of his Cabinet Sunday to consider what a government source called "the clandestine landing of Turkish troops on Cyprus."

The source said the government expects the U.N. Security Council and the Commonwealth prime ministers' conference, now meeting in London, to help the Greek Cypriots meet the "Turkish aggression."

He indicated urgent appeals would be sent to both bodies, but made no mention of the even larger landings of Greeks reported by the U.N. command.

Over the past five weeks, a U.N. spokesman said Saturday, U.N. patrols have observed some 500 Turkish military personnel put ashore in the Manoussa area of northwest Cyprus, the only coastline controlled by Turkish Cypriots.

The spokesman also said some 3,000 men and artillery pieces had landed from Greece in support of the Greek Cypriots.

Court 'No' To Ouster Of Steel Firms

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—The Missouri Supreme Court today refused to go along with Atty. Gen. Thomas F. Eagleton's contention that six steel companies should be ousted from doing business in the state because of alleged price fixing.

The court said in an opinion by Judge Lawrence Holman that Eagleton "failed to prove by clear and convincing evidence" that the companies conspired to rig prices on structural bridge steel they sold to the state.

All five judges sitting on the appeal agreed in the final opinion which followed the recommendations of a special court commissioner, Robert L. Hawkins of Jefferson City.

Eagleton filed the ouster suit against the six companies in July, 1962, and for months after Hawkins held frequent hearings at which the companies defended their positions and Eagleton pressed for conviction.

be better provided for in his old age," Khrushchev said.

"Such an approach is in the interests of the collective farmers and in the interests of the entire Soviet society."

Khrushchev announced average wage increases of 25 per cent for workers in education, 23 per cent in public health, 25 per cent in retail trade and 15 per cent in retailing and housing and municipal services.

The increases will begin with public service workers in October and all will be in effect in all categories by the end of 1965, said Tass, the Soviet news agency.

Khrushchev declared real income of the Soviet people has risen 61 per cent in the past decade. But he said not enough is being done to satisfy public demand for consumer goods. He called for greater efforts to increase production of such goods.

Khrushchev said that improving the living standards of the people is the most important problem for the Soviet Union.

The premier reported that half of the Soviet working people have high school education or better. More than 30 per cent of the national income is spent on education, he said.

Khrushchev scorned Western speculation about agricultural failure in the Soviet Union last year.

Although 12 million tons of grain were purchased abroad he said, this was only testimony to the strength of the economy. Measures are being taken to increase agricultural production, he said.

Exclusive Convention Report

GOP Sets Up Rival FBI

By Jack Anderson
SAN FRANCISCO —The rival Republican forces in San Francisco have adopted super-secret intelligence measures that would do credit to the FBI.

Both sides, while watching each other's moves closely, have taken far more elaborate precautions to keep from being watched.

What plagues the security men is that the rival headquarters are located within three floors of each other in the Mark Hopkins Hotel. Worse, Gov. William Scranton's personal suite is sitting right on top of Sen. Barry Goldwater's nerve center, only a staircase apart.

Both sides have hired private detectives to sweep their conference rooms with electronic devices, which are supposed to locate hidden mikes. Two security men, Nick Pappas and Ralph McKinley, dismantled all the phones in Scranton's suite to make sure there were no "bugs" among the digits and dials.

Uniformed guards and plainclothesmen patrol the smoke-filled backrooms, keeping close watch on the fire escapes, to make sure no political spies slip into the strategy sessions. Goldwater's security men are also fearful that a left-wing crackpot, like the late Lee Oswald, might try to take a pot-shot at their man. Resuk: Goldwater's movements in public are planned and timed with the precision of a military operation. The security men alert one another along the way with walkie-talkies, and the key cars in every Goldwater procession are tuned in.

Both sides use dozens of walkie-talkies to keep in touch with events on the convention floor. Scranton got a temporary permit to operate mobile broadcasting units during the month of July in the San Francisco Bay area. More optimistic, Goldwater obtained a license to operate his walkie-talkies anywhere in the United States for the remainder of the election campaign.

The Secret Wave Lengths
The rivals are trying to keep their wave lengths secret, so snipers won't be able to tune in on their operations. At the risk of spoiling their sport, this column can report that both use the business radio service band (Goldwater: 151.625 megacycles, Scranton: 152.60 megacycles).

However, the security men, anticipating that the wave lengths might be found out, have prepared secret codes so eavesdroppers will have difficulty understanding the cryptic communications. They will even rely on sign language for some messages. When a floor manager scratches his head or tugs on his left ear lobs, it may have a secret meaning.

Among the most guarded secrets are the delegate-control books, which both sides have carefully compiled to guide them in handling the individual delegates. The books contain detailed personal information about each delegate, including his most intimate financial affairs. His political, social, business, and religious connections are listed, together with advice on the best approach to use to influence him.

The Goldwater command has spent more than a year compiling delegate information, frankly borrowing the techniques that the late President John F. Kennedy used to win in the Democratic nomination in 1960. The Scranton forces inherited their delegate books—25 big, black notebooks, each with its separate lock and key—from Gov. Nelson Rockefeller.

Running a campaign for the presidential nomination indeed has become a complex, computer-like operation.

GOP Curtain Up

Barry, Scranton Battle Bitterly

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—With pomp and ceremony—and back-stage battling—Republicans opened their 1964 convention today to choose the man who will carry their standard against President Johnson in the fall.

Barring some kind of thunderbolt, the man will be Sen. Barry Goldwater.

Even as the convention doors swung open, Goldwater dashed farther ahead in the race for delegates, picking up 42 of Ohio's 58 convention votes in a caucus of the delegation. He had been credited with 20 in advance.

Here, in all likelihood, Goldwater found the "few more" delegates he felt he needed to sew up the nomination on the first ballot Wednesday and roll over his only real opponent, Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania.

But although the nomination was almost in his pocket, Goldwater acknowledged he was suffering a bit from stage fright.

Asked how he felt as the convention was opening, Goldwater replied, as he was leaving his hotel: "Scared to death as always."

As to a move by Scranton forces to try to change convention rules and force a secret ballot, Goldwater said it would be undemocratic.

Goldwater was described as "boiling mad" Sunday night over a letter Scranton sent him, and then made public in a late-hour move to try to stop the hurtling Goldwater bandwagon.

With the surge of Ohio delegates into his column, The Associated Press survey credited the Arizona senator with 746 first-ballot votes—109 more than the 655 required for nomination if all stick with him. The survey showed Scranton had 163.

In his bitter letter to Goldwater challenging him to a debate, Scranton had questioned Goldwater's claims of having enough votes to win the nomination on the first ballot.

National Elks Ruler

NEW YORK (AP)—Robert K. Pruitt, a 58-year-old lawyer from Atlanta, Ga., was elected without opposition today as the grand exalted ruler of the Benevolent and Protective Order of the Elks.

The election came at the opening session of the Elks' 100th Grand Lodge convention.

Other officers chosen today, also without opposition included Fred H. Kelly, Salina, Kan., grand esteemed loyal knight.

Scranton Appeal To Missourians

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton issued a last minute appeal for GOP presidential nomination votes to the Missouri delegation Sunday but apparently didn't change anyone's mind.

The delegation is still expected to give 23 of its 24 votes to Arizona's Sen. Barry Goldwater, although three are listed as leaning toward him but uncommitted. One delegate has announced for Scranton.

After the closed session with about 25 or 30 of the delegates and alternates, Rep. Thomas B. Curtis of Webster Groves said he thought Scranton made some headway and good will—but I don't think he changed any votes."

Others reported the same result.

Both Curtis and Lem T. Jones of Kansas City, co-chairman of the delegation, said Scranton emphasized he would support the nominee chosen by the convention and would campaign for him.

Curtis regards himself as uncommitted and said he wanted to keep an open mind until after discussing the subject with his fellow delegates. Jones is committed to Goldwater.

Missouri group unanimously solved one problem by electing Jones and Durward G. Hall of Springfield co-chairmen of the delegation. Miss Hazel Palmer of Sedalia was chosen secretary.

And Curtis, a member of the platform committee who worked all night Saturday on the final draft, said it is "a meaningful, hard hitting kind of platform any American, any Republican, can stand on."

Push Probe In Slaying Of Educator

COLBERT, Ga. (AP)—FBI and Georgia state agents today pushed an intensive investigation into the mysterious slaying of a Washington Negro educator.

J. J. Casper, assistant director of the FBI, would say only that the investigation is continuing. "I'm in no position to make any comment," he said.

State investigators fanned out Sunday along the route taken through northeast Georgia by Lemuel Penn, 49, director of Washington's vocational high schools, when he was shot at the wheel of his car early Saturday by a night-riding gunman.

Residents along the rural route said agents of the Georgia Bureau of Investigation moved from house to house in their questioning Sunday. Public Safety Director Lovell Conner said there were no arrests and that he had nothing to report.

Penn, a lieutenant colonel in the Army Reserve, was killed by a shotgun blast fired from a car which passed his automobile from the rear about 10 miles northeast of Colbert. Two other Negro officers riding with Penn escaped injury. The three men had completed a refresher course at Ft. Benning.

The only investigator talking was Madison County Sheriff Dewey Seagraves, who said he was getting nowhere.

"They are not either," Seagraves said, referring to the FBI.

The Weather

Lake of Ozark stage: 59.02 feet; 0.8 below full reservoir; up .1.

Barry Line Of Delegates Hold Firm

Arizona Senator Credited With 740 Votes By AP Poll

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater's lines held firm today as Republicans opened their 28th national convention, apparently determined to make him their presidential nominee.

With the nominating roll call two days away, the Arizona senator was credited with 740 votes—85 more than the 655 needed for nomination if all stick with him, according to an Associated Press survey of the 1,308 delegates. Pennsylvania's Gov. William W. Scranton was credited with 169.

The first-ballot lineup, based on primary commitments, convention instructions, pledges and state preferences, read this way:

Goldwater	740
Scranton	169
Nelson A. Rockefeller	103
Henry Cabot Lodge	45
Margaret Chase Smith	18
Favorite sons	47
Uncommitted	186

Goldwater's votes included 303 from delegates who favor him but are not officially bound. All of Scranton's are in that category.

Most of Scranton's efforts to win the nomination for himself were aimed at the favorable but unpledged Goldwater delegates.

He gained some votes Sunday, but none of them—at least publicly—came from any supporters of Goldwater. And unless he can get Goldwater's total below 655 on the first ballot, it's all over.

In Sunday's skirmishing Scranton picked up a net gain of five votes, but Goldwater had nine additional votes.

Goldwater could garner further support today when the Ohio delegation is formally released from its favorite-son pledge to Gov. James A. Rhodes. A new AP poll of the delegation shows 20 for Goldwater, 8 for Scranton and 30 uncommitted. Some of the uncommitted have indicated they will stick with Rhodes whether he releases them or not.

Warsaw Crash Fatal to KC Woman, 41

A three-car pileup a short distance south of the Osage river bridge on Highway 65 at Warsaw late Saturday night killed a Kansas City woman and injured five other persons, two of them seriously.

Dead is Hester Linder, 41, 5631 East 40 Highway, Kansas City. She was the driver of one of the cars involved.

The accident occurred at 11:50 p.m. seven-tenths of a mile south of the north junction of Route 7.

The Highway Patrol reported a 1962 Chevrolet hardtop coach, being driven north by Gregory Scott, 18, Overland Park, Kan., was on the wrong side of the road on a curve and collided head-on with a southbound 1963 Chevrolet pickup truck, driven by Mrs. Linder. A third car, a southbound 1962 Ford hardtop sedan, driven by James Arnett, 20, Route 1, Edwards, was unable to stop in time and struck the rear of the Linder pickup about the same time as it collided with the Scott car, the Highway Patrol said.

Scott sustained contusions and a concussion. Cordry Morris, Jr., 19, Overland Park, Kan., a passenger in Scott's auto, received a severe head injury. Both were taken to the Wetzel Hospital in Clinton.

A passenger in the Linder truck, Leland Brown, 18, Frisette, sustained contusions to the head and was treated by Dr. Gus Salley, Warsaw.

Two others in the Linder truck, the father and mother of the driver, were seriously injured. Everett Antwiler, 64, of Frisette, suffered chest injuries, laceration of the forehead and internal injuries. His wife, Ada, 63, had her left ankle shattered, received broken ribs and lacerations.

Bush Boost In St. Louis Endorsements

JEFFERSON CITY—Lt. Gov. Hilary Bush's campaign for the Democratic nomination for Governor received a big boost in St. Louis County today with the endorsement of State Senator John J. Johnson, it was announced by John W. English, campaign manager.

Senator Johnson is Chairman of the St. Louis County Democratic Central Committee, and committeeman of Concord Township. He and committeewoman Ruth Montgomery also announced the unanimous endorsement of Lt. Gov. Bush by the Concord Township Regular Democratic Club.

Senator Johnson said the action was taken after a thorough study of the platforms and programs of the two leading candidates for the Democratic nomination.

"We believe that the urban areas of Missouri such as the metropolitan St. Louis area can look to Governor Bush for a much better understanding and sympathy with our problems because he has lived in a similar area for a number of years and therefore is acutely aware of our problems," Senator Johnson said.

"For this reason and because of other things I have learned of Governor Bush's programs through discussions with him, as well as discussions with the other leading candidate for Governor, I am convinced that the future of our metropolitan St. Louis area, as well as that of all Missouri has a brighter outlook with Governor Bush at the head of our state government."

With Senator Johnson's endorsement, Lt. Gov. Bush has the backing of both chairmen of the Democratic Committees in St. Louis City and County. St. Louis City Chairman, Jack Dwyer announced his endorsement earlier.

Commenting on Senator Johnson's endorsement, English said:

"Lt. Gov. Bush has support of fourteen of the twenty-eight wards in St. Louis City and with the endorsement of the Concord Township Democratic Club, he has the endorsement of nine of the sixteen townships in the county."

"With this kind of support and the efforts of Senator Johnson and Jack Dwyer, Lt. Gov. Bush will carry both St. Louis City and County."

Registered Trap Shoot Event Is Staged Sunday

A registered trap shoot was staged Sunday by Sedalia Rod and Gun Club.

Twenty-three shooters entered the 16 yard event, with 100 targets.

Expansion Plans For 62 Units At Holiday Inn

Jim Grieshaber, manager of Holiday Inn, has announced plans of the board of directors for expansion of Holiday Inn on the north and enlarging of the cocktail lounge.

An L-shaped building of matched brick which will extend on the north to the drive, will add 40 units; one wing to have 22 units; the other 18. The wings will enclose the entire court, and will go as far east as the northwest corner of the present building.

Blockwork at the northwest corner of the commercial building in front will be taken down and an additional 1,500 foot building will be constructed on the north of that building for a mechanical room. Two unions will be placed on its roof.

Work has already started on the cocktail lounge extension, which will enlarge it between 500 and 600 feet, more than doubling the present area. This will provide a dance floor and will seat an additional 40 people. The addition to the cocktail lounge is on the west and directly south of the southeast corner of the swimming pool, and will have a glass corner door on the northwest, opening onto the court by the pool. The south wall of the lounge will parallel the south side of the commercial building. The board hopes to have the lounge completed and open by fair week.

Accidents

No injuries were reported in a rear-end type collision on Highway 50 just east of the Johnson-Pettis County line at 7:10 a.m. Monday.

Highway Patrol Trooper Richard Joos, who investigated, said a westbound 1964 Chevrolet sedan, driven by Elmer J. Beck, 27, 2505 Kay, Sedalia, slowed for a vehicle which was turning left. A 1960 Pontiac stationwagon, driven west by William H. Watkins, 44, Kansas City, was unable to slow in time and struck the rear of Beck's auto.

Both cars were able to be driven away under their own power.

A camping trailer came loose from a northbound auto as it rounded the curve on south Highway 65 at Flat Creek Inn about 7:30 a.m. Monday and resulted in extensive damage to the camp unit.

Highway Patrol Trooper Richard Joos reported Harold W. Kottman, 41, Hale, Mo., was driving a 1963 Pontiac pulling the homemade camp trailer. The tongue on the trailer broke, it traveled across the west lane, the tongue dug into the dirt on the west shoulder and the trailer flipped over coming to rest on its wheels.

A car collided with a parked auto at 7:40 p.m. Sunday at Fifth and Ohio.

Police reported a 1948 Pontiac, being driven north on Ohio by Donna M. Evans, 17, 2207 South Harrison, struck the rear of a parked 1959 Dodge stationwagon, owned by Robert E. Pummill, 228 West Saline.

Miss Evans told police the left front door on her car flew open and as she reached for it her car struck the rear of the stationwagon. Damage was recorded only to the right front of the Evans car.

Herschel M. Decker, 514 Wilkerson, was reported in serious condition Monday at Bothwell Hospital from burns sustained while cleaning the motor of his auto with gasoline Sunday afternoon.

Decker received burns on the legs and lower part of his body when the fuel he was using ignited. The mishap occurred at 1:15 p.m.

City firemen responded to the alarm and doused the fire in the 1956 Buick with only slight damage being recorded.

Elbert Clayton Fidler, 31, 106 Helen Circle, a driver for the Holsum Bread Company, sustained lacerations to his left leg and was reported in satisfactory condition at Bothwell Hospital following a one-truck accident in Morgan County at 7:30 a.m. Monday.

Highway Patrol Troop F headquarters in Jefferson City reported the mishap occurred about two miles south of Highway 50 on Route 135. The patrol said Fidler was southbound in a 1961 Ford van truck, owned by the bakery company, when he apparently fell asleep. The truck ran off the road on to the right, went into the right ditch, struck a driveway into a field, throwing the driver from the seat. The truck then came back on to the highway and in traffic on Route 135 being overturned on its left side.

The overturned truck resulted in traffic on Route 135 being tied up about two hours. Fidler was brought to Bothwell Hospital and treated by Dr. Donald Proctor. Following X-rays he was admitted as a patient.

An auto accident on Benton County Route C at 6 p.m. Sunday injured two persons, but not seriously. The mishap occurred

Arson Ruled In Burning Of Churches

NATCHEZ, Miss. (AP) — Predawn fires swept through two rural Negro churches near here today and investigators said arsonists were responsible.

Deputy State Fire Marshal G. O. Perry, after checking the scene, said the burnings were "definitely the work of arsonists."

Burned were the Jerusalem Baptist church, located about two miles north of Kingston, and the Bethel Methodist church, about one mile east of Kingston Road.

A nearby resident, who would not permit the use of his name, said he saw two cars drive up to one of the churches just before the blaze.

These were the latest in a series of fires this summer that have destroyed at least a half-dozen Negro churches in rural Mississippi communities. Other fires were near Philadelphia, Greenwood, Moss Point, Canton and Ruleville.

Many of the churches were used by civil rights groups.

Firemen Sue City

KANSAS CITY (AP) — City firemen sued the city today for $1,760,000, claiming that much was due them in unpaid holiday wages.

The petition, filed in behalf of about 850 city fire fighters, asks for a declaratory judgment to determine their rights in getting the back pay.

The firemen's union is sponsoring the circulation of petitions seeking repeal of the city earnings tax and to shorten the terms of city councilmen from four to two years.

1.8 miles west of Highway 65.

The Highway Patrol reported a 1955 Ford sedan, driven by Betty Parks, 25, Route 1, Lincoln, was eastbound and turning north into a driveway when struck by a westbound 1962 Ford sedan, driven by John Poague, 68, Lincoln. Poague's auto skidded 115 feet before sideswiping the Parks auto, the patrol said.

Injured was 5-year-old Janet Parks, a passenger in her mother's car. She sustained head abrasions.

Poague suffered abrasions to the right ear and a possible neck injury. Neither of the injured required emergency treatment, however.

Area Fires

A tool shed and its contents were damaged an estimated $100 about 11:15 a. m. Monday after sparks from a brush pile ignited the roof on the C. A. Huntington farm, Route 1, near Smithton. Huntington resides about 2 1/2 miles east of Beaman on Route HH.

Pettis County firemen used one booster line from their fire truck and confined the damage to the roof of the shed. Some cement and tools inside received some water damage.

County firemen reported Huntington was burning a brushpile nearby and the sparks spread to the shed's roof.

Sheriff Report

The loss of a 650-pound Angus bull from the T. E. Hickam farm, Route 2, has been reported to Sheriff Emmett Fairfax. Fairfax said the bull has been gone since Saturday. Hickam's farm is located five miles south of Sedalia on Route C.

The sheriff asked anyone who might see the animal to relay the information to his office.

William T. Read, proprietor of the Welcome Inn at Third and Engineer, has been charged with allowing consumption of liquor on his premises without a license.

Sheriff Emmett Fairfax said Read was arrested about 2:30 a.m. Sunday by a state liquor control agent William H. Bailey, who turned him over to the sheriff's department.

Fairfax said Read was released on $100 cash bond for appearance in Magistrate Court on Wednesday, July 15.

Circuit Court

The trials of four Negroes charged with possession of a narcotic drug have been continued to the September term of Circuit Court.

The cases of Eli Gilbert, Richard (Little Richard) Thomas, Gloria Doyal and Mattie McColum were previously scheduled for trial this week. All four were granted severance and Gilbert was to appear July 14. Thomas on July 15, Miss Doyal on July 16 and Miss McColum on July 17.

All are free on bonds. Gilbert and Thomas are from Sedalia, while the two women gave Kansas City addresses at the time of their arrest.

Name New Pastor For Marshall Church

MARSHALL, Mo. (AP)—The Rev. Sam Spence Langley of Memphis, Tenn., has been hired to succeed the Rev. James Spainhower as pastor of the First Christian Church.

The Rev. Spainhower resigned to do church supply work and to campaign for re-election a state representative from Saline County.

The congregation approved Sunday a $509,899 contract for reconstruction of the church, damaged by fire in 1963.

Mrs. Linder was born at Fris-toe on Oct. 19, 1922, the daughter of L. E. and Ada Antwiler. For the past few years she has been employed in the office of TWA in Kansas City.

Surviving are two sons, both in the U. S. Navy, Bob Truitt, stationed at Chicago and Herbert Truitt, out of New York in the submarine division, and at present in Scotland. Also surviving are her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Antwiler, Fris-toe, two sisters, Mrs. Rosemary Wall-thall, Lincoln and Mrs. Dorothy Breshears, Raytown; a brother, Ernie Antwiler, Fris-toe and her maternal grandmother, Mrs. Maggie Jenkins, Fris-toe.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Wednesday at the Reser Funeral Home in Warsaw. Burial will be in the Fris-toe Cemetery.

Friends may call at the Reser Chapel Tuesday between the hours of 7 and 9 p.m.

The point is not that Gold-water's camp will be totally lacking in funds if there's a debacle in November. There'll be more than enough to take care of the debt incurred in the campaign. But since defeat usually leads to recrimination and bitterness, the money will come from the embittered. One campaign won't rid the Republican House of its virus. But those who feared and fought it will have fled.

FARMING---

Across Pettis County

By LARRY HALE

Director, MU Extension Center

Dates Ahead

Wednesday, July 15 — Missouri Livestock Association Meeting, Student Union building, University of Missouri at Columbia, 9:45 a.m.

Thursday, July 16 — Meeting of the County CROP Committee, 6 p.m. at the University Extension Center.

Saturday, July 18 — Tomato Field Day, 10 a.m. or 1:30 p.m., University of Missouri Horticulture Farm, New Franklin.

July 22, 23, 24 — County 4-H Achievement Days.

July 25 — County 4-H Tractor Rodeo.

Important Livestock Meeting

"Who's making the money on your beef?" will be the topic of Ovid Bay, associate editor of the Farm Journal, speaking at the annual meeting of the Missouri Livestock Association in Columbia on Wednesday, July 15th.

The meeting will be held in the Student Union building on the M.U. campus beginning at 9:45 a.m. Carl Raines, Pettis County livestock producers, is a member of the board of directors.

The program will deal with some of the present problems of the livestock business. Larry Simerl, Extension Economist from the University of Illinois, will present his views on the current market and what the future may hold for the livestock industry.

Heavy winter cattle have been a factor in low cattle prices. The University has together a panel to discuss feeding cattle to heavy weights. They will deal with the cost of gain and feed efficiency, retail yields, risks and how they affect both the feeder and the overall beef industry.

Every one is invited to attend this livestock meeting July 15. Bring along your neighbors.

Fall Alfalfa Varieties

If you are planning to seed alfalfa this fall, what varieties should you use? Vernal, Buffalo, Ranger, Cody, and Culver are highly recommended for this area of the state. They are resistant to bacterial wilt, winter hardy, and are high in yield.

Wilt-susceptible Narragansett, Williamsburg and Atlantic have been about equal to the varieties mentioned in short term trials or in long term trials where bacterial wilt is not a problem. Where bacterial wilt is a problem, they haven't held up.

The preparation you make in the next few weeks for seeding alfalfa and grass will largely determine success. Seeding time is really not many weeks away. The target date for seedings is mid-August to mid-September. The keys to successful stands are: good fertility, a firm, moist seedbed and timely seeding of productive varieties.

Don't sell good alfalfa and grass stands short. More than half the open land of Missouri is devoted to pastures and hay. Yet much of it is producing only about 1/4 to 1/2 of its potential in livestock products. Good stands, effectively utilized can be a profitable part of the farm business.

Good fertility is a must for high yielding, weed free stands of alfalfa and grasses and long stand life. Insufficient use of limestone, phosphate and potash where needed is likely to cause an early failure or a stand that is slow in becoming established and short lived.

The first step in preparation is to determine the present fertility status of the fields you are planning to seed. Soil tests will help you determine the needs of limestone, phosphate and potash. Soil samples for testing should be carefully taken to represent the surface seven inches of the same kind of soil that has had the same past history of crops and treatments. Several samples will be the best guide.

Now is an ideal time to obtain your soil samples and take them to your County University Extension Center for testing. Don't wait too long because it will take a few days for testing and a few more to get limestone and other fertility needs.

These needs should be applied before plowing.

Permanent Pasture Seedings

There are real hazards to successful establishment of a good stand of permanent pasture regardless of the time of seeding. Late summer or early fall seedings face the hazards of drought, insect damage and insufficient growth to withstand the coming winter's intense cold and severe heaving. However, spring seedings face the even greater hazards of severe drought or grass and weed competition and in some seasons both hazards occur.

Generally speaking, late summer or early fall seedings of perennial grasses for permanent pastures are best. You can make these seedings safer if you get ready now so that the seedling can be timely. Seedlings should not be made earlier than Aug. 20 and the latest safe date is Sept. 7.

If you are to be ready for these dates in your area, you will need to:

1. Get a new soil test or have a prior one brought up to date. Apply the indicated limestone, phosphorus and potash. If possible, these should be plowed under at the time the land is prepared.

2. You will need to select the grass and legume mixture to use and secure the necessary good quality seed. I would suggest that you get a copy of Bulletin 739, from the County University Extension Center. This will give you information on the various grasses and legumes and should help you in making your seed decisions.

3. Plow the area to be seeded as soon as possible. Disk, harrow and roll to give a weed and grass free, well compacted seedbed.

4. Seed as soon after Aug. 20 as moisture conditions will permit. The seed can be seeded with a grain drill, a brilliant seeder or broadcast. It should be covered one-quarter to one-half inch deep. If alfalfa and/or ladino clover are used, they can be seeded with or near the same time as the grass. The use of a starter fertilizer — two to three hundred pounds of a 12-12-12 — will give the seedlings a boost and help insure their making enough growth to help prevent winter-killing.

The use of a nurse crop is not recommended unless the land is subject to severe erosion. If you seed alfalfa, be sure and inoculate the seed if needed. If red clover, alsike clover or lespedeza are selected as the legumes in the mixture, they should be seeded in late winter or early spring.

Potato Harvest

During the next two or three weeks, depending somewhat upon the weather, the plow and the spading fork will be conspicuous by their presence in many gardens. It's potato harvest time!

This is usually an exciting time for many gardeners. With beans, or lettuce, or cabbage, we know by looking at the crop what our harvest will be. But with potatoes, unless you have been "peeking" the past few weeks, you don't know what is under the ground until you dig the spading fork into the good earth or turn out a potato row with the plow.

So, it's with an air of enthusiasm, a touch of excitement, and much anticipation that the

Information On Gasoline Tax Refunds

Quite often, the County University Extension Center receives calls for information regarding gas tax refunds. The purpose of this article is to provide you with changes pertaining to Missouri Motor Fuel Tax Refund laws that became effective Oct. 13, 1963.

Applications for refund can be made within one year of date of purchase. Farmers may submit claims for refund at any time within this time period. Gas purchased 120 days prior to Oct. 13, 1963, and within the one year time limit is still eligible for gas tax refund. In other words, gas purchased after July 1, 1963, is eligible for refund if filed by July 1, 1964.

The amount of refund is five cents per gallon.

You must use Form 8, Application for Refund of Motor Fuel Tax. This form may be obtained at the County Clerk's office.

You can speed the processing of your claim and possibly eliminate rejection by requesting an invoice from the dealer at the time of purchase. It is the duty of the supplier to issue an invoice which is in compliance with Missouri Motor Fuel Tax Refund Law requirements at the time gasoline is purchased for non-highway use.

Mail your claims for refunds to — Motor Fuel Tax Unit, Department of Revenue, Jefferson City, Mo.

All gasoline consumed by non-highway equipment, such as gasoline used in the operation of farm businesses, motor boats, custom work etc. It does not include gas used to propel motor vehicles on public highways.

Regulations on the federal gas tax refund has not changed during the past year. The filing date for the federal gas tax refund is July 1, to Sept. 30, 1964.

home gardener readies for potato harvest.

First indication of the time to harvest potatoes is a yellowing or dying back of the plants. As soon as this occurs, the potatoes should be dug. The plant is no longer functioning as a storage organ and the sooner the potatoes are dug and properly stored the better.

In some years, and with some varieties of potatoes, the foliage does not die down in early to mid-July. If we have reasonably cool weather (night temperatures below 75) we might leave the potatoes in the ground a little longer. If it is hot weather during mid-July, even though the vines haven't died down, it might be the best policy to dig the potatoes.

This is really a judgment decision on your part. Temperatures, condition of the vines and perhaps other factors will enter into your decision. But usually there is no advantage in leaving potatoes in the ground after mid-July.

Now, when digging potatoes, use care! Every bruise, every gouge or puncture can mean trouble with rotting and decay. So handle with care! Use canvas gloves. Place potatoes in containers like you would place eggs in a carton.

Remove potatoes from exposure to sunlight or any bright light, immediately after harvest. Potatoes should preferably be spread out in a single layer in a covered place, away from strong light, but in good ventilation. During this period of three or four days, the potatoes will "set" the skins and become "storage acclimated" so to speak.

During this period it would be advisable to remove all potatoes that show damage from insects, diseases or mechanical injury. Place these damaged potatoes in separate containers and consume these first.

After this pre-storage treatment, place potatoes carefully in their storage containers and get them in as cool a place as possible. And this is usually hard to find in Missouri in the middle of July!

Just prior to storage it might be a good idea to treat all potatoes you intend to store for over three months with a sprout inhibiting hormone. They are sold at drug and garden supply houses under various trade

Mail Bag Again Open To Public

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Only one in four American sons follows the same career as his father. The highest percentage—49.1—is in the professional group, including doctors and lawyers.

It has been estimated that the average person learns at a rate of only about 10 per cent of his full capacity, so — strain that brain.

Cheerful news for any man planning to go into a hospital: more than half of all U.S. registered nurses are under 40.

A civilization can be judged by how much paper it uses—and for what purposes. America consumes more than seven million tons of newsprint annually, and last year it used 287,756 tons of facial tissues—a figure not to be sneezed at.

Theocratic Leaders Head For 'Frisco

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Democrats and Republicans, unite. That's the Theocratic Party's slogan this year.

And Bishop William R. (Bill) Rogers of Fulton, Mo., is on his way to San Francisco to show the Republicans the errors of their ways.

His fellow bishop in the Church of God, Homer A. Tomlinson of New York, plans to do the same for the Democrats at Atlantic City next month.

Bishop Rogers held a brief news conference between buses at the Greyhound bus depot in Kansas City Sunday. A small, curious crowd gathered.

He will make himself available to the Republicans for the vice presidential nomination, and Tomlinson will seek the Democratic presidential nomination at Atlantic City, Bishop Rogers explained.

At 4 p. m. Wednesday in San Francisco, he said, he will knock on the Cow Palace door, wearing a purple robe and carrying a crown, and exclaim:

"Oh, Republicans, I stand at the door and knock. If you will only open, I will come in. But if you refuse to unloose the latch I cannot come in."

The next move, Bishop Rogers said, will be up to the GOP.

If their campaign works to perfection, he and Bishop Tomlinson will be running against each other, but that's part of the master plan.

Their real purpose, Bishop Rogers said, is to unite the Democratic and Republican parties under the Theocratic banner.

The Theocratic partform proposes union of church and state, an end of all taxes, wars, crime civil strife, divorces, an end to gambling and use of tobacco and liquor, and Bible reading and prayer in schools.

The bishop said he preferred to have Sen. Barry Goldwater as his running mate because he considers the Arizona senator "75 per cent Theocratic" already.

In the event of an electoral college deadlock, which would leave the election up to Congress, Bishop Rogers said he believes he and Bishop Tomlinson would be ideal compromise choices for the presidency and vice presidency.

"He's an ex-Republican and I'm an ex-Democrat," Bishop Rogers said. "This nation needs men who've got wisdom like Solomon, and we've got it."

They already comprise the Theocratic Party ticket, with Tomlinson for president and Rogers for vice president.

Ann Landers

Answers Your Problems

Dear Ann Landers: In your column recently a wife wrote that she was disturbed because her husband had come home from a stag party where two girls did strip acts. You told the wife she should not be thrown off balance by a "cheap little bimbo whose major talent is parading at stags in the altogether."

For the first time in my life I feel I should defend my profession. I have been an exotic dancer (I prefer this to "stripper") for 12 years. I am no cheap little bimbo but a hard-working woman who paid taxes on $40,000 last year.

When I finished my schooling in the East at age 16, I went to work in the office of a major TV network. In the 10 months I worked there I received more indecent proposals and pinches on my posterior than in the 12 years I have been doing my act.

There can be artistry and taste in exotic dancing. I am told I have a regal bearing which makes men respect me. The average male would think twice before he tried to pinch a woman who buys her own diamonds and minks—and travels with a 200-pound drummer.

Since you claim to be fair, Ann, I hope you will print my letter and give the customers an eyeful.—T.N.T.

Dear Dynamite: I try always to be fair and here is your letter. As for "giving the customers an eyeful"—that's your line, thank you.

Dear Ann Landers: Have you noticed that service employees are becoming chummier and chummier? I have, and I don't like it.

My butcher always greets me with "Hello, Honey," or "What will you have today, Dear?" I find this embarrassing, particularly when someone I know is standing near.

Am I wrong to feel as I do? Should I say something to the man? Thank you — OLD-FASHIONED

Dear Old-Fashioned: If the butcher asked for a date or offered to deliver the pork chops in person you'd have a legitimate beef—no pun intended.

"A 'Hello, Honey' should not offend you. If it's more than you can stand, however, ask him to call you 'Mrs. Glockenspeil' in the future. You might also prepare yourself for some stringy roasts and tough T-Bones.

Dear Ann Landers: Is it wrong to discipline the children of guests?

I have two friends who bring their youngsters over regularly. One little 2½-year-old boy is into everything. He is fast as lightning and unless someone keeps an eye on him every minute he can take a whole house apart.

The boy's mother is one of these "relaxed" types who never sees anything. I have to take matches out of the child's mouth, ash trays out of his hands and move the candy dish on the mantel or he would eat every piece. He has torn up my magazines and broken my records. His mother is always "sorry" but that's as far as it goes. She says, "I hate to be hard on Jerry because it might destroy his natural curiosity. Children need to investigate."

How about this?—ROBIN

Dear Robin: You have not been "disciplining" the boy, you've attempted to protect your property, and the boy against his lack of training.

The child who is permitted everything and anything at home will try for anything and everything when he's out. His mother is failing him—badly. A youngster who does not learn what NO means is bound to find the world a frustrating and unhappy place to live in and will forever be at odds with those around him. This is how misfits are made.

Autos Permit More Land Use

Almost anywhere one travels in America today, whether in city or country, the marks of the bulldozer can be seen on the land as more and more stretches of the vast Interstate Highway network come into being, as more and more residential subdivisions spring up on what was yesterday a farm, as more and more decayed city cores are torn down and rebuilt.

To all of us this means progress. The highway system is an urgent necessity if the nation is not to be strangled by the very motor vehicles that have given us a mobility never before known in history.

The need for new housing and urban redevelopment is equally obvious.

At the same time, there are many who lament the transformation of millions of acres of forest and field into great ribbons of concrete and asphalt.

To some, there seems an actual danger that the entire country will eventually be paved solid with superhighways and city streets.

Now comes a voice crying out of what little wilderness remains in the land to say that this isn't so at all.

According to a study published by the Tax Institute of America, urban areas take up only 1 per cent of our total land area. Even if cities continue to grow at their present rate — absorbing about 400,000 new acres a year — they will still only occupy less than 2 per cent of the land by the year 2010.

As for the automobile, says the study, it and its highways actually use far less space than the horse and mule once did.

Before 1920, for instance, nearly 5 per cent of the total land in the 48 continental states was used merely to produce the feed for this living form of transportation. This amounted to 27 per cent of the total harvested land.

The switch from animals to automobiles has meant an actual gain in land, for by 1957 only 2.4 per cent of harvested land was devoted to raising feed for horses and mules.

Even though some of this "released" land is being surfaced over, "the motor car is still utilizing far less acreage than was needed for its four-legged predecessor," says the report.

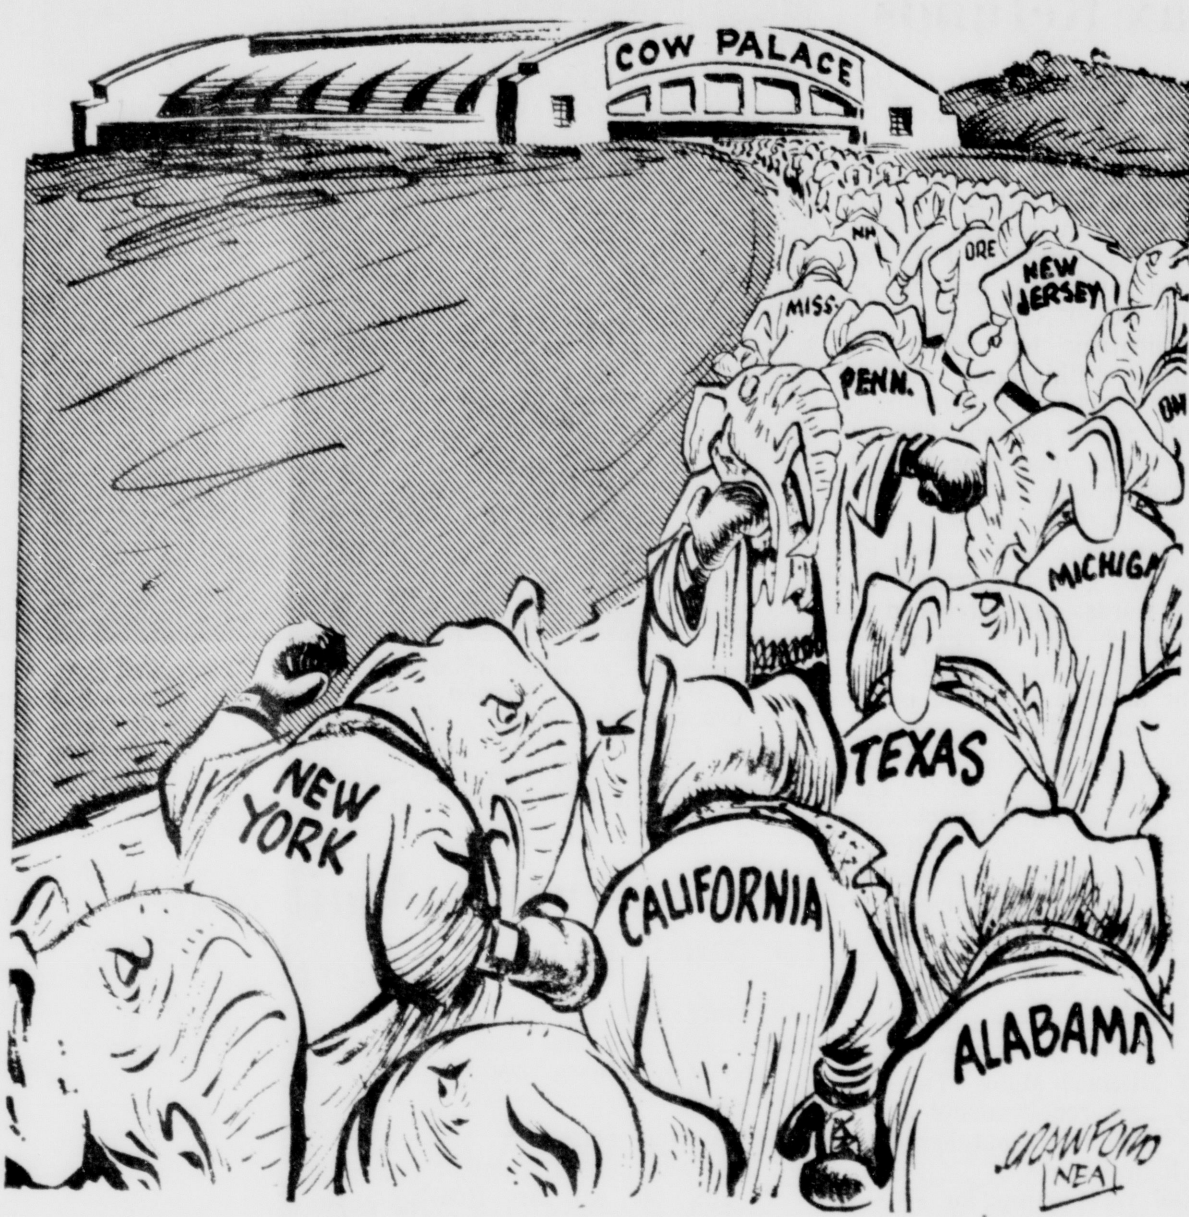

Moreover, the Tax Institute claims, there is a lot of vacant land in urban areas and it is not as high-priced as is generally believed. It ranges from 12 per cent in New York and Chicago to as much as 36 per cent in some smaller cities.

Also in the cities, the institute's analysis finds, the automobile is shrinking the space requirements of streets once trod by horses. Modern subdivisions and rebuilt areas, specifically designed for automobile travel, devote no more than 20 per cent of the total land to traffic needs, including both streets and arterial freeways.

It is the automobile that has made possible the fantastic spreading of our cities by providing both a great part of the economic basis for a large population and the means for it to get from place to place.

It is encouraging to be told that the automobile is also providing the means for the intelligent use and conservation of the land we hold in trust for future generations.

GOP Plank Patched With Vagueness

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — There's a lot of Sen. Barry Goldwater in the campaign promises nailed together by the Republican platform committee. He can be highly satisfied with it.

Although he wanted a short platform, and this is long, he wanted one which was mostly a declaration of principles. In a large sense, that's what it is. And, just because it is, it's all patched over with vagueness.

Anyone reading it would have to stick a big question mark in many of the paragraphs, asking himself: "What does this mean? How will this be done?"

There will be a fight over some parts of it Tuesday on the convention floor by Pennsylvania's Gov. William W. Scranton, Goldwater's leading opponent for the Republican presidential nomination. But as of now Scranton's fading fast and probably won't get far.

The foreign policy plank, for instance, starts off with a ringing call for a "dynamic strategy." That's the typical political platform rubber wording.

The Republicans created a big question mark when they went on to say they "reaffirm their long-standing commitment to a course leading to the eventual liberation" of the Red-run countries of Eastern Europe, Asia and Latin America.

John Foster Dulles, later President Eisenhower's secretary of state, talked liberation of the satellites back in 1952. But when he and Eisenhower ran foreign policy later nothing ever came of it. Even when the East Germans and Hungarians revolted nothing was done to help them. Dulles never quite lived down the promise.

The platform also pledges to cut off trade with the Communist countries unless it served to "diminish their power."

The platform promises a "drastic reorganization of foreign aid." This suits Goldwater fine. He had repeatedly voted in the Senate against foreign aid bills.

In speeches around the country he had called for elimination of the graduated income tax, preferring, as he said, to have a system by which poor and rich would pay the same percentage of tax, which would mean a great saving, particularly for the rich.

The senator never repudiated that proposal although he hasn't been mentioning it lately. The platform doesn't go so far as Goldwater but it calls for simplification as well as lowering of the "rates to strengthen individual and business incentives."

Exactly what the platform committee had in mind isn't clear.

Another plank pledges revision of the Social Security laws to "allow higher earnings, without loss of benefits, by our elderly people." Again: No explanation of how this could be done.

Goldwater in the past had talked of putting Social Security on a voluntary basis. This got him criticism and he stopped saying it. Then he said he wanted to strengthen Social Security and make the pension dollar sound. But he never publicly repudiated the idea of a voluntary system.

Goldwater had voted against an increase in the minimum wage law. One platform pledge would provide "incentive for employers to hire teenagers, including broadening of temporary exemptions under the minimum wage law."

The platform also would drastically curtail the power of the National Labor Relations Board, the Federal Trade Commission and the Food and Drug Administration, all of which coincide with Goldwater's calls for less government authority.

The platform also promises two constitutional amendments. But the purpose of one isn't clear. This suggests an amendment to let people exercise their religion in public places but would not undo the Supreme Court's ban on compulsory or prepared religious readings in public schools.

The other slaps at the court which said the membership in both houses of a state legislature must be based on equal proportions of the population. The platform wants an amendment letting one of the two houses choose its membership as it pleases.

Probably the most controversial part of the platform—the one most likely to provoke a convention floor fight—is on civil rights. But oddly enough this part seems to contain one of the clearest pledges, although it doesn't suit Scranton.

It promises "full implementation and faithful execution of the Civil Rights Act of 1960 (which Goldwater voted against) and all other civil rights statutes."

It's a long platform. Only a few parts have been touched on here.

Democrat Pick-ups

A TINY GIRL was taken visiting one day to a home where she had been before and she remembered that one of the rooms had a lot of stuffed toys and dolls. She ran down the hall and they supposed she had gone to that room, but when they didn't hear her, her mother and some of the family where she was visiting went looking for her.

Certain she had gone to that room the woman whose home it was went back there and looked, but she wasn't there. They looked all through the house, calling her, and went outside all around the house calling her. She just didn't seem to be anywhere.

Another search of the house was being made and the woman went again to the room where the toys and dolls were, among them a big doll the size of a three-year-old. She looked again in that room and jumped about three feet when she saw the head of the big doll move. Then she discovered that what she thought was the big doll was the child who had been standing there the whole time so fascinated with the big doll she didn't even know they were looking for her. — H. L.

KENNY, about four years old, who is a regular attendant at church, went with his grandmother to see the new house she and her husband are building. The home is in the first stages of construction and will have a large fireplace. In the basement is the uncompleted clean-out for the fireplace which during the recent rains filled with water because there was no floor or protection above the foundation walls.

"Mammaw," said the little boy on his way home, "Paw-paw's baptistry has water in it."

She asked him again what he had said and he repeated it. Later she found that he thought the clean-out was a baptistry like he had seen in his church. — H. L.

HIGHLIGHTS AND SIDELIGHTS FROM YOUR STATE CAPITOL

Reapportionment Decision Both Praised and Vilified

In Missouri today, the legislative set up is similar to that of the federal House and Senate, but more or less on a reverse basis. On the federal level, the House membership is based on population while the Senate is composed of two members of each state, regardless of size.

Missouri, on the other hand, more or less bases its House membership on one representative per county with some allowance made for divergence of population. The Senate, however, is based on population through districts.

The recent ruling by the U.S. Supreme Court concerning apportionment has received a mixed reaction from many Missourians. Some on the one hand call it a shameful decision. Others, citing the need of the more populous areas, exude platitudes in its behalf.

Under the present system in Missouri, each county has at least one representative and many feel this is harmful to the metropolitan areas of St. Louis and Kansas City. For instance, Worth County with a population of fewer than 4,000 persons and one representative often is cited in contrast to St. Charles County where one representative is selected for nearly 53,000 citizens.

This, advocates of reapportionment and staunch backers of the Supreme Court ruling contend, is malapportionment.

One solution offered by supporters of reapportionment contend the House membership should be derived from districts similar to that of the present state Senate. In this plan, various counties would be grouped together in order to gain their minimum number of representatives.

Further, it is the contention of pro-apportionmentists that the state House of Representatives already is too large to operate effectively. What conceivably could be done would be to take away representatives of each county, no matter how small, transferring this to a newly created district.

If the latter were achieved, St. Louis and Kansas City would each receive a boost in their number of representatives.

This, at least one outstate newspaper has written, would be almost fatal. During the last session of the legislature, there were a goodly number of complaints about the caliber of representatives being sent to Jefferson City from the metropolitan areas.

Many contend that representatives from rural Missouri served as a check on these legislators.

In any event, opposing factions already are arming their arsenals with plans for either fighting the decisions or helping its implementation.

Taxes Reflect Smoking Habit

Around the first of August when the Cigaret Tax Division of the Department of Revenue issues its monthly report on tax receipts, figures for July should show a large climb over those of the same month last year.

Why? Well, Jack Matthews, who heads the division, has a simple answer. During such activity as the Republican National Convention, people smoke more. And, the more they smoke, the more money rolls into state coffers.

Matthews cites the assassination of President Kennedy as a valid example. During the week in which the President was slain in Dallas and his burial in Washington, cigaret tax receipts showed a marked increase.

Holiday periods show similar reaction. The more leisure time a person has, the more he apparently smokes.

In January when the Surgeon General's report knocked the wind out of smoking, receipts from cigaret sales went tumbling, not only in Missouri, but all across the country. Today, such receipts for the first six months of 1964 are running three-quarters of a million dollars behind previous years.

But, the last few months have shown a steady increase in receipts and today, the cigaret tax appears to be holding its own on a month-to-month basis. This is an indication that many smokers who cut down or tried to quit may have fought a losing battle.

If the government's plan goes through for labeling cigaret packages with the warning that smoking is a health hazard, then the state can expect another decline in receipts, Matthews predicted. But, officials expect receipts to once again level themselves out.

School Buses—A Steady Expense

During the just completed school year, there were approximately 5,600 school buses in operation throughout Missouri representing a total investment of nearly $20 million dollars. The average lifetime of a school bus is estimated at between six and seven years.

Lately, there has been some talk that school districts in Missouri might be able to save money by having the state "buy" their buses for them.

One plan would have each district as it needed a new bus notify a state agency, which would be in charge of such a service, and when a certain the agency would take bids. Therefore, instead of a firm bidding on one or two buses, it would be bidding on perhaps 20 or 30.

In one southeastern state, the state holds title to the buses which are then "loaned" to the districts, which are responsible for their maintenance and operation.

Any change in the present set up in Missouri, however, would have to come through action of the General Assembly.

School and You

Student-Parent Schism

by Susan Light,
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

It's a real switch when children defend the schools, teachers and methods that parents criticize! The letters below are food for thought:

DEAR MRS. LIGHT: In your column I read about a mother who stated that her 7th-grade son leaves for school at 8 a. m. and works on homework until 9 or 10 p. m., and that he doesn't get time out to relax or doesn't always complete his assignments.

I think if a student plans his time well and doesn't waste any, he'll have sufficient time to complete work at school with little or no homework. I am a fairly good student, and our school has high educational standards. I don't care what anyone says, teachers work for every bit of money they get and actually deserve more.

I also think projects are very educational and worthwhile. They give a student something to work for and they help improve the mind. I am satisfied with school the way it is.—A SATISFIED STUDENT

Not long ago I was a seventh grader. Being in the ninth now, I can still remember the nights I spent studying for tests and doing loads of homework. I still do it. My mother also thought I was working entirely too much until I told her of the importance of it all. Perhaps "Another Wonderer" should take more time considering the importance of her son's education than the weak points of it.

I think that the 7th grader and earlier is the ideal time for a child to start good working habits—mainly homework before television. It has certainly paid off for me, working to my best ability every night. I have high school and college ahead of me, and I can't let down now.

So to parents who worry about the child's relaxation time: "Forget it." If your child is as contented as I am with my straight A's, let him alone.—A PERFECTIONIST AT HEART

ANSWER: Good for both of you! May you always look on the bright side of things.

Democrats Hope GOP Picks Miller

By DREW PEARSON

SAN FRANCISCO — Democrats are literally licking their chops with glee over the prospect that Chairman Bill Miller of the Republican National Committee will be vice-presidential nominee. They figure that few other Republicans, with the exception of Jimmy Hoffa, would be such a drag on the GOP ticket — for three reasons:

1. Miller, a New York State Congressman, twice conspired with Southern Dixiecrats in the most high-handed manner to block Civil Rights Bills. His nomination, along with Goldwater, would make an ally-white Republican ticket.

2. Miller is a Roman Catholic who received a $500 campaign contribution from the head of the Catholic lobby for voting money to the Catholic Church in the Philippines. And while the backbone of the Democratic party is big city Catholics, both Catholics and Protestants frown on any paid Catholic lobby.

3. Miller's nomination would soften the sting of the Bobby Baker scandal. For Miller has pulled some interesting influence deals himself.

Even while busy preparing for the Republican convention, Miller was not too busy to look out for the jukebox interests on Capitol Hill.

The Jukebox Lobby

The jukebox manufacturers have been trying to block a bill that would force them to pay royalties to the composers of music played on their machines. And though he's one of the busiest Republicans on Capitol Hill, Miller was always able to break away to attend hearings on this obscure bill.

Behind the scenes, he also collaborated with the jukebox people on strategy to block the bill. He was in particular close touch with Wurlitzer, one of the big four jukebox manufacturers.

On the eve of the Cleveland governors' conference, for instance, A. D. Palmer, a Wurlitzer public relations man, phoned Miller and asked him to write a letter to the House Rules Committee about the bill.

Miller was in the thick of the presidential politicking that preceded the governors' conference. But he took time out to write a strong letter to the Rules Committee.

Fanny Wurlitzer, the grand old man of the music box business, acknowledged to Jack Anderson that he has been a big contributor to the Republican party. He has also donated $800 to Miller's own campaign every time the New York Congressman has run for re-election.

Miller got his $500 campaign contribution from Catholic lobbyist John O'Donnell, who

Motherly Advice

"More congestion, more people, a wrong sense of values, not enough self-discipline and a world given to too much chit-chat, but nothing that love, prayer and the word of good faith can't solve in the end," are the words of Cora Stavig, the 1964 Mother of the Year.

The youngest child in a family of seven girls, in the home of a Lutheran minister, her father always said "We are a privileged family." Not because we have wealth, power, prestige or social position, but because we had a wonderful warm family life and because our parents gave us a fine sense of values and an appreciation of people as individuals.

Fortunately, although the problems which Cora states do exist, there are many parents who do give the young people the kind of warmth, security and respect for the individual which she had. They may go unheralded and unsung but theirs are the homes which make America strong and the young people who come from them can be counted on "to carry the torch."

lobbed a $73,000,000 appropriation through Congress for the benefit of individuals and Catholic churches in the Philippines. The bill was opposed by the Senate, but bi-partisan strength in the House was too strong, and, thanks to Miller and Speaker John McCormack of Boston, whose nephew got a $1,000 campaign contribution, the $73,000,000 bonanza passed.

Human Rights Vs. Corporation Rights
Most damaging backstage fact in the life of the would-be-vice president is how he sabotaged the Civil Rights Bill in 1956. Miller had signed his name to the bill, but suddenly got up on the House floor and moved to shelve the bill which he had sponsored.

In a voice choked with emotion, he proclaimed: "I make this motion in utter sincerity because I am profoundly convinced that this legislation in its present form will destroy more civil liberties and civil rights than it will ever protect."

That ended the Civil Rights Bill for that year. But what the public didn't know was that Miller had worked out a deal with Bill Colmer of Mississippi and Howard Smith of Virginia, both on the powerful Rules Committee, that in return for killing Civil Rights, they would bottle up the Niagara Falls Power Bill.

This was a bill to turn Niagara Power over to public, not private development. Miller has long been the champion of the private utilities. So he sold out human rights for private utility rights, through the two Dixiecrat members of the Rules Committee.

Next year, 1957, Miller did somewhat the same thing by introducing a hamstringing amendment in the Judiciary Committee. Later in 1961 he refused to support the Civil Rights Bill until fellow Republicans practically hog-tied him, told him that it would be suicide if the National Chairman did not back it.

That's why Democrats are so gleeful over the prospect of Bill Miller's No. 2 spot nomination.

GOP-Go-Round

Wisconsin Congressman Melvin Laird has made such a hit as platform chairman that conservative congressional colleagues have already started plotting to throw out House Republican leader Charlie Halleck next year and put Laird in his place. Ironically, Halleck led a rebellion of young Turks in 1958 to oust kindly old Congressman Joe Martin as GOP leader. Now a new generation of young Turks wants to get rid of Halleck, and they think Laird is their man of the hour.

Institutional Investor Has His Name In Lights

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — The institutional investor has seen his name go up in lights on the stock market marquee since the war. In the present decade and the next he may clinch this star billing by doubling the percentage of common shares he controls on the nation's stock exchanges—or from around 20 per cent now to 40 per cent. He already holds 80 per cent of the corporate bonds.

Of late the institutional manager also is playing more of a role in influencing corporate policies. This too could increase unless the number of individual investors multiplies again as fast as it did in the late 1950s, or government regulatory agencies move beyond their present stance of apparently increasing curiosity only.

The rapid growth of institutional ownership of stocks has been largely due to two things: 1. Money has been rolling into the various types of savings institutions at a faster rate than the economy itself has been growing; 2. The stock market has offered attractions neither they nor many individual investors thought they could pass up.

As to the role the institutions will play in corporate policies, the New York Stock Exchange says in a survey of such shareownership, out today:

"If institutional investors some day take a more active roll as shareowners, the methods by which they do this will be significant in view of the increasing importance of institutions in the stock market. Institutions will probably continue to rely primarily on informal discussions in communicating their views to portfolio companies — and on sale of the stock when they are in strong disagreement with management."

The exchange notes that in 1954 institutions held about 12.7 per cent of the stock listed on it, and by 1963 held 20 per cent.

It traces most of that growth to swelling assets of these savings concerns. In the years between 1945 and 1963 the output of goods and services in the nation increased by 160 per cent. But the assets of the six main forms of savings institutions grew as follows: life insurance companies 198 per cent; mutual savings banks 172 per cent; savings and loan associations 973 per cent; corporate pension funds 1,233 per cent; state and local government pension funds 829 per cent; and mutual funds 1,687 per cent.

With all this money rolling in, the institutions have invested $86.7 billion in corporate bonds, and some $82.4 billion in common stocks listed on the exchange. This big demand, the survey allows, "may have contributed to higher stock prices" since the war, but it says it's difficult to measure the real extent of their influence.

Dismas House Saves Missouri Taxpayers

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Dismas House, founded by the late "Hoodlum Priest," The Rev. Charles (Dismas) Clark, has saved Missouri taxpayers about $1,500,000 in the past five years, a state official said Sunday.

Charles Elder, chairman of the board of probation and parole, made the tax saving estimate. Elder said taxpayers saved money because prisoners paroled to Dismas House didn't have to be supported by the state. It said it costs about $2,000 to keep a prisoner one year. Dismas House is a non-sectarian rehabilitation center for ex-convicts.

Elder spoke to 80 political, business and labor leaders who are planning a fund raising dinner for Dismas House Sept. 20 in honor of Father Clark.

Polly Buck Calls Roll For Voting

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A record 573 women delegates and alternates take their seats today for the first sessions of the Republican National Convention with pretty secretary Polly Buck of Delaware in the starring role of roll-caller.

The wives of the two leading presidential candidates—Peggy Goldwater and Mary Scranton—had box seats for the opener.

Mrs. Goldwater had stayed until midnight at the convention - eve, million-dollar, fund-raising buffet - dinner gala, which Sen. Barry Goldwater shunned for backstage convention business.

The Scrantons, also at the gala, had warmly exchanged greetings with Mamie and former President Dwight D. Eisenhower. They left at the same time as the Eisenhowers after a half-hour at the jammed, noisy party, which featured a 60-foot-long buffet table loaded with delicacies.

Johnny, San Antonio, Tex.; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hood, Springfield, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Elliott, Jimmy Jay Green, Mrs. Minnie Momberg, Mrs. Eva Cook, Mrs. Lovern Momberg and daughter, Diane and Ronnie Wasson, Sedalia, and S-Sgt. Sylvan Demand, San Antonio, Tex.

In the morning and matinee convention kickoff sessions, two key GOP women were featured speakers — Elly Peterson of Charlotte, Mich., assistant national chairman and head of women's activities, and Dorothy Elston of Middletown, Del., who heads the half-million member National Federation of Republican Women.

Last of the presidential hopefuls to arrive was Sen. Margaret Chase Smith, who proclaimed to some 300 cheering, crowding airport greeters Sunday that she's still a candidate and "I have just as good a chance as anyone."

Crash Fatal To Arizonian

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (AP)—wreckage to get to her parents. The pilot of a private plane was fatally injured Sunday night when his single-engine craft crashed during a landing approach at Springfield Municipal Airport.

The pilot, William L. Agee, 44, of Phoenix, Ariz., died in a Springfield hospital about two hours after the crash.

Agee's wife, Dorothy, 41, and daughter Beverly Ann, 15, were injured. Mrs. Agee suffered multiple lacerations and was in serious condition. Beverly Ann is believed to have escaped with only lacerations of the left leg.

The girl was standing outside the plane when rescuers arrived. They had to cut away the

Anchor Men Get Set For Heavy Week

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Anchor men aweigh! This is the day when television networks put immense resources behind five articulate men who will interpret the Republican National Convention for the viewers.

NBC continues with Chet Huntley and David Brinkley, who have consistently won ratings and Emmies. CBS relies on Walter Cronkite, backed by a group of pundits, notably Eric Sevareid. ABC is fielding its new team of Howard K. Smith and Edward P. Morgan.

All three networks previewed the forthcoming week Sunday night. There was a sameness about the shows—all featured an empty Cow Palace with comments about the drama to take place there Monday through Thursday. There were numerous interviews with Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania, including a session on NBC's "Meet the Press."

Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona was not much in evidence, but he was No. 1 man in the commentaries.

ABC made good use of its star attraction, former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, who has signed on as political consultant. He was seen in an interview in his hotel headquarters with ABC news political editor William H. Lawrence and special correspondent James C. Hagerty, former White House press secretary and now an ABC executive.

Earlier in the day, ABC presented Eisenhower on "Discovery," in which he was interviewed in Gettysburg by a group of local grammar school pupils. He was at his engaging best.

He said he enjoyed the exchange with the youngsters "because most of the time I talk to people just as bald-headed and old as I am."

Milwaukee Braves Move In a Northerly Direction

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Milwaukee Braves are moving—but in a northerly direction.

Removed to be headed to Atlanta and subjected to some caustic comments about their talents, the Braves ignored the former and answered the latter Sunday by continuing their sudden climb up the National League standings into fifth place.

The Braves, bogged down in ninth place two weeks ago, made it 11 victories in their last 15 games by sweeping a doubleheader from Philadelphia 4-3 and 6-2, knocking the Phillies into second place behind San Francisco.

The Braves' latest outburst came just two days after the Milwaukee County board chairman, Eugene Grobbschmidt, fired a verbal broadside at the players.

Hank Aaron has been laying the groundwork for the Braves' streak with some amazing stick work.

The slugging outfielder collected four hits against the Phillies—including No. 2,000 of his career—and extended his hitting string to 16 games. During that stretch, Aaron has driven in 17 runs while hitting at a .394 clip and lifting his average to .412—sixth best in the league.

The Phillies, meanwhile, lost their fourth straight and again changed places with San Francisco in the tight pennant struggle.

The Giants moved one game out front despite losing to Houston 5-4 in a weird game in which

San Francisco reliever Billy O'Dell was ejected before throwing a pitch and Gaylord Perry took over, then proceeded to change his shoes while sitting on the pitcher's mound.

Elsewhere, the New York Mets swept a doubleheader for the first time in more than a year by beating Cincinnati 1-0 and 5-1 while the Chicago Cubs

Pro Golfing Group Moves To Columbus

NEW ROCHELLE, N.Y. (AP)—The pro golfing tourists shake the arithmetic out of their brains and move into Columbus today for the PGA Championship but they'll leave behind their latest tournament winner, Miller Barber.

The paunchy, 32-year-old Texarkana, Ark., pro, who beat out National Open champion Ken Venturi for the $5,000 first prize in the Wykagyl Round Robin, isn't eligible for the pros' private tee party, starting Thursday.

He is two weeks shy in completing the five-year apprenticeship.

"I'll get a crack at them next year," said Barber, celebrating his biggest tournament triumph.

The bespectacled former assistant pro, on the tour less than two years, staged a rally to overtake the front-running Venturi in the 90-hole, four-day mathematical monstrosity played over the Wykagyl Country Club course.

Barber wound up with a total of 31 plus points—one better than Venturi.

In this unique event, every player opposes each of the others in the field on a head-to-head, match play basis over a period of four days. Points are awarded for holes won and subtracted for holes lost.

Medal scores, the determining factor in most other tournaments mean nothing.

Sedalian Wins Sportsmanship Rodeo Award

TARKIO, Mo. (AP)—Larry Campbell of Trenton won four events Sunday night to be named the champion all-around cowboy in Missouri State Championship High School Rodeo.

Linda Noel of Oregon was champion all-around cowgirl.

Both received saddles and belts.

Larry placed first in saddle and bareback bronc riding, bulldogging and calf roping. He was third in bull riding.

Linda was first in girl's breakaway roping. She was queen of the rodeo last year.

This year's queen was Nancy Byland of Maryville, who also won the girl's cutting horse event.

The high school senior boy and girl scoring the most points were awarded $200 scholarships by Tarkio College. They went to Phyllis Swackhamer of Tarkio and Jerry Windsor of Columbia.

Other winners included Steve Boswell, Savannah, in bull riding; Mike Byland, Maryville, boy's cutting horse event; Sherry Burks, Springfield, girl's barrel race and Marilyn Jolly, Mexico, pole bending.

Patsy James of Drexel won the girl's sportsmanship award and Bill Moore, Sedalia won the award for boys.

downed Los Angeles 6-3 before the Dodgers won the nightcap 6-2 with a six-run ninth inning.

The St. Louis at Pittsburgh doubleheader was rained out.

The Braves jumped on Chris Short in the opener for all their runs in the fourth inning.

Aaron doubled and scored the Braves' first run in the nightcap and drove in the second with a single, his 2,000th hit.

At Houston, O'Dell was called in for a relief role in the seventh inning, but was tossed out before he even threw one pitch because of a disagreement with Umpire Lee Weyer. Perry then got a hurry-up call, trudged in and sat down to change his shoes.

Perry ultimately was touched for a run-producing single by Nellie Fox that tied the score 4-4 and lost it in the ninth when Eddie Kasko, Dave Roberts and Fox stroked singles for the winning run.

Galen Cisco of the Mets won a battle of six-hitters with the Red Sox's Joe Judge in the opener when New York scored the game's only run in the ninth inning on consecutive doubles by George Altman and Joe Christopher.

The Mets wrapped up their first doubleheader sweep since June 23, 1963, as Ron Hunt collected three hits, including a homer, and drove in three runs in the nightcap. Frank Lary got the victory, his first as a National Leaguer.

The Cubs won the opener with a four-run ninth capped by Billy Williams' 21st homer, off Ron Perranoski.

Ernie Broglio, looking for his first victory as a Cub, had a four-hit shutout going into the nightcap ninth when the Dodgers struck. Tommy Davis' bases loaded single tied the game and Ron Fairly scored the lead run on Frank Howard's infield out.

The sizzling shortstop rapped five hits, scored four runs and stole two bases in the games.

The thefts gave him a leading total of 33 but more important put him back into the base stealing racket. They were his first since he stole three times June 14. In the meantime, he missed about two weeks with a pulled groin muscle.

Aparicio, who has led the league in stolen bases for eight straight seasons, is a cinch to top last year's total of 40 and should eclipse his top mark of 56 recorded in 1959.

Still more important to the Orioles, Aparicio's hitting spurge boosted his average to .304, far above his .261 lifetime mark.

The first hit for the 30-year-old Venezuelan in the doubleheader was a double in the fifth. He scored the Oriole's first run on Sam Bowens' single.

With Baltimore trailing 2-1, Aparicio opened the eighth with a single, stole second and third, then scored the tying run on an infield out. Brooks Robinson hit a winning two-run homer minutes later.

In other AL games, Chicago swept Kansas City 3-1 and 11-4. Los Angeles took Minnesota 2-1 and 3-2 in 10 innings. Washington trounced Boston 10-3 after losing 5-3 and New York battled Cleveland to a 2-2 tie in a game called in the seventh because of rain.

The Tigers won the second game despite Aparicio. A walk, a single by Don Wert and a passed ball set the stage for Mike Roarke's winning two-run single over a drawn-in infield in the bottom of the 10th.

Stu Miller, Baltimore's ace reliever, suffered his third setback in seven decisions. The loss was only the Orioles' third in 24 one-run games.

Pete Ward hit two homers and drove in six runs in Chicago's double victory. His homer in the nightcap was a grand slam, his third of the season. The hit climaxed a seven-run rally in the eighth inning that broke a 4-4 deadlock.

Dave Nicholson and Ward homered in the opener as John Buzhardt pitched a five-hitter. Nicholson was hit in the head by a Moe Drabowsky pitch in the second game but was not injured seriously.

The Angels' Bob Rodgers had his 18-game hitting streak stopped in the opener but singled home the winning run in the 10th inning of the nightcap. Shortstop Zoilo Versalles helped set up the run with a two-base throwing error on Willie Smith's grounder.

Fred Newman stopped the Twins on four hits in the first game. Jim Piersall doubled across the winning run in the ninth, handing Dick Stigman a tough loss. Stigman retired the first 15 men he faced and allowed only three hits.

The Senators' defeat in the opener was their eighth straight, equaling the longest losing streak in the majors this season. The Red Sox won it in the seventh on Russ Nixon's sacrifice fly and Felix Mantilla's two-run homer.

Jim King's three-run homer in the second helped launch Washington to the second-game victory. The Senators added three in the sixth on Ed Bresnold's two-run error and a single by winner Al Koch.

Roger Maris and Joe Pepitone homered for the Yankees while Loen Wagner connected for the Indians in their shortened game.

White Sox Follow Pennant Ambitions With 2 Victories

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Fleet Luis Aparicio, the major leagues' biggest thief, has branched out. He's now committing crimes in more ways than ever before.

Aparicio did just about everything but grab the ball and run away with it Sunday as the American League leading Baltimore Orioles split a doubleheader with Detroit. The Orioles won the opener 4-2, then dropped the nightcap 4-3 in 10 innings.

The sizzling shortstop rapped five hits, scored four runs and stole two bases in the games.

The thefts gave him a leading total of 33 but more important put him back into the base stealing racket. They were his first since he stole three times June 14. In the meantime, he missed about two weeks with a pulled groin muscle.

Interest Mounts

Older Horses Move Back To Spotlight On Weekend

By ORLO ROBERTSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

The older horses move back into the racing spotlight Saturday after a weekend which saw four 3-year-olds enhance their chances of receiving title consideration when the laurels are handed out at the end of the year.

Richest race on Saturday's calendar is the $140,000 plus Hollywood Gold Cup over 1 1/4 miles at Hollywood Park. But of chief interest is the 1 1/4 miles of the $100,000-added Monmouth Handicap at Monmouth Park with Kelso and Mongo due to hook up for the first time since Mongo edged the four-time Horse of the Year in the Washington D.C. International at Laurel, Md., last Nov. 11.

Also on the program are the $40,000-added Equippo Mile at Arlington Park; the $30,000-added New Castle Handicap, first of Delaware Park's Distaff Big Three series and the $25,000 added Tidal Handicap at Aqueduct.

The field for the Monmouth Handicap will not be known until after the weights are announced today. But Mongo is on the grounds and Kelso and Olden Times are expected to be shipped from New York.

Miss Cavandish, who came from far back to take the $56,250 Monmouth Oaks last Saturday by one length over Caskle Forbes and pay $5.60, is expected to make her next start in the Delaware Oaks July 25.

Quadrangle showed he is ready to dispute the 3-year-old championship with Northern Dancer by letting Malicious set most of the pace in the $81,800 Dwyer Handicap at Aqueduct and then winning by a neck.

Dandy K, far back in the Kentucky Derby, put in a strong claim for the midwest 3-year-old championship by winning the $33,950 Laurance Armour Handicap on the turf at Arlington Park.

With Santa Anita Derby winner Hill Rise still in the East awaiting for another clash with Quadrangle and Northern Dancer in the Travers, Real Good Deal wrapped up the West Coast title. He set all the pace in taking the $116,100 Hollywood Derby at Hollywood Park as Close By's winning streak was stopped at three straight.

Wilhelm Surprises Everyone

KANSAS CITY (AP)— Hoyt Wilhelm, the balding bullpen specialist of the Chicago White Sox, was holding court in the clubhouse and for once, his knuckle ball never entered the conversation.

"Two-for-two and I batted in the winning run — how about that," said the veteran right-hander.

The score was tied 4-4 with two out in the eighth with a man on second when John Wyatt, Kansas City's top relief pitcher, walked catcher J. C. Martin intentionally to get to Wilhelm.

Wilhelm surprised everyone, including himself, with a ground single to right scoring the winning run. Another run scored on an error on the same play. It touched off a seven-run blast capped by Pete Ward's grand slam homer for an 11-4 White Sox victory and a doubleheader sweep.

Wilhelm scored from second base on an infield single behind second for the third run. He stroked another single to right in the ninth.

Manager Al Lopez, asked what he had done to improve Wilhelm's hitting replied:

"Nothing—Hoyt's been trying to improve his hitting for 28 years."

Wilhelm, who'll be 41 in two weeks, couldn't remember ever getting two hits in one game. The fact is, he got two hits all last season and two hits in 1962. But he has an explanation:

"I don't bat much pitching in relief. When I started, I did all right—I was a pretty good right fielder. In fact, I got a home run my first time at bat in the majors. It was in the Polo Grounds. I don't remember the pitcher but it happened—look it up."

We did and it's true. On April 23, 1952, Wilhelm slammed a homer off Dick Hoover of the Braves.

TOILAFLEX Toilet ALL-AROUND Plunger

NEVER AGAIN that sick feeling when your toilet overflows

Unlike ordinary plungers, Toilaflex does not permit compressed air or messy water to splash back or escape. With Toilaflex the full pressure plows through the clogging mass and swishes it down. Can't miss!

One Poverty Solution

Pioneering a Sterilization Program in Kentucky Hills

BEREA, Ky. (AP)—"Times is hard. We just can't take care of any more children," the gaunt Jesse Hartman, a New York woman said as she signed for a sterilization operation.

Dr. Louise Hutchings, president of the Mountain Maternal Health League, is chairman of the Berea committee. Her group has been advocating birth control, including sterilization, for 28 years.

"I went to see a doctor about three years ago," another mountain woman recounted. "I was pregnant with my 10th child and my legs swelled up so much the doctor said he didn't know how I could stand."

"The doctor told me about the operation. I wanted it." The association paid for the operation, which costs about $280 for women.

This woman and another, who underwent the operation 10 days ago, had the operations at the same time as childbirth. Their hospital stay was only a day or two longer than normal.

The committee sponsoring the program here would prefer that men undergo sterilization rather than their wives, but it often is difficult to convince a man to allow it, they say. Male operation costs about one-seventh as much, is much simpler and does not require hospitalization.

But many men feel that sterilization would be a stigma. Some fear loss of work time—even a few hours.

Keener said his group believes sterilization is one answer to the poverty that grips the mountain country of Appalachia.

So far, six couples have applied for the operations. They have a total of 53 children and four of them, with 35 children, have a total income of $4,000 a year.

"It (sterilization) is the only answer for some of these people," Keener said.

Size of Land Needed For Maneuver is Cut

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The U.S. Army said Sunday that about 900,000 acres of land south of U.S. highway 60 would not be used in a combined Army-Air Force maneuver in south central Missouri scheduled for October and November.

About 18,000 men will take part in the exercise, Gold Fire One, the Army said. The military maneuver will be held north of highway 60.

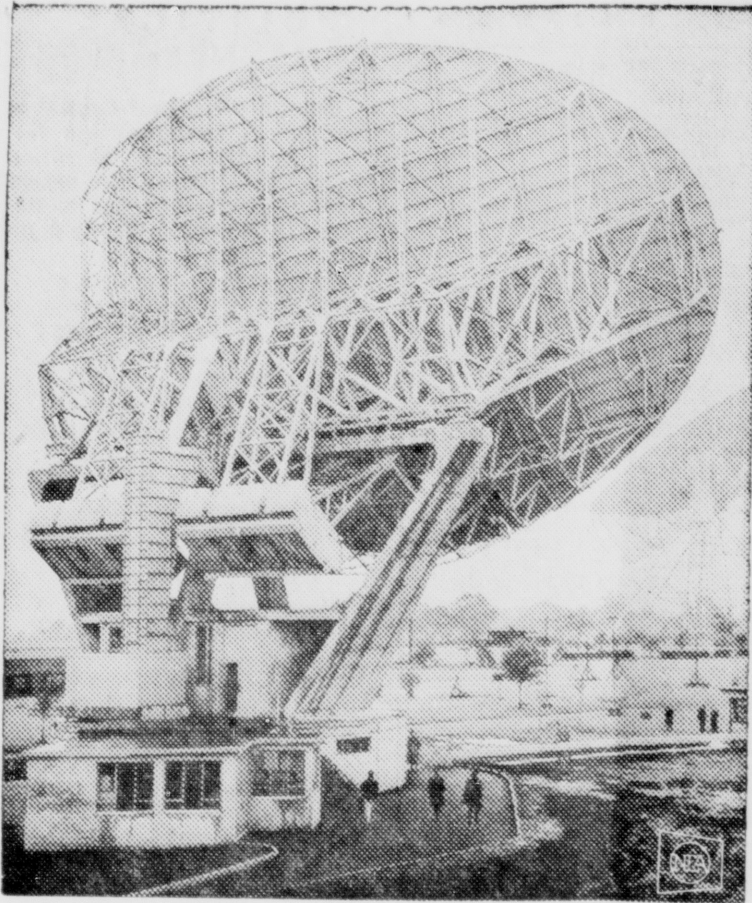

The Army first announced plans to use 2,500,000 acres of land. The exercise was scheduled for Dent, Douglas, Howell, Laclede, Oregon, Phelps, Pulaski, Shannon, Texas, Webster, and Wright counties.

Stalled Car Brings Arrest of Fugitives

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (AP)—A stalled car led to the arrest of two men identified as fugitives from the Indiana reformatory at Pendleton, Ind.

Greene County sheriff's deputies Byron Cummings and Manway, 29, in a nearby woods, where he had fled.

Policeman Wounded By Another Officer

KANSAS CITY (AP)—A policeman was wounded by another officer while they were chasing a prowler at a service station early Sunday.

Cpl. James Worthington, 34, was hospitalized in good condition with shotgun pellets in his right leg and left foot. He was fired at in mistake by Cpl. Lehmon Hicks.

Both had spotted the prowler from different directions. Hicks lost him for a moment in the dark and, when Worthington hove into view, shot at him mistakenly.

Another patrolman flushed a suspect from the service station 20 minutes later. He and a companion were charged with burglary and stealing.

Two Bishops Chosen

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Rev. Dr. Francis E. Kearns, pastor of Wauwatosa, Wis., Methodist Church, and the Rev. Dr. Lance Webb, pastor of North Broadway Methodist Church in Columbus, Ohio, were named bishops Saturday.

Delegates to the North Central Jurisdictional Conference of the Methodist Church named the two on the 23rd ballot.

this cockeyed phone can't ring

BUT IT WILL SIGNAL TO LET YOU KNOW THE RECEIVER IS OFF THE HOOK...SO YOU WON'T MISS CALLS

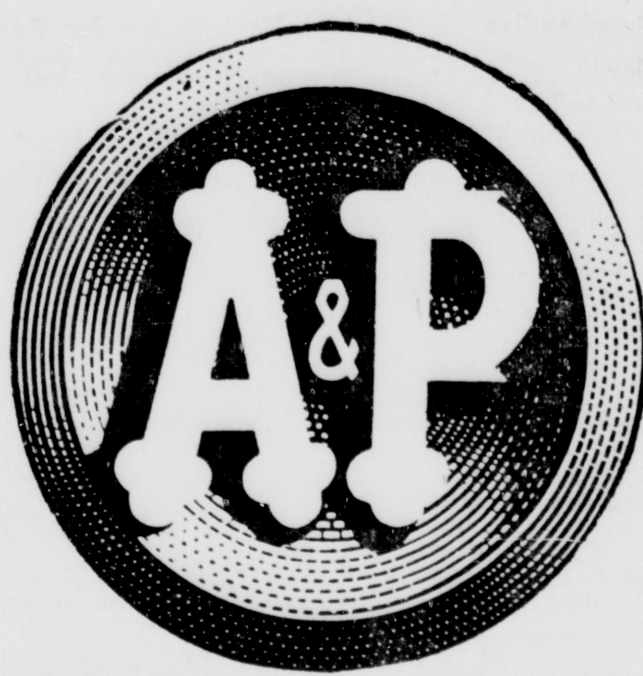

When your telephone receiver is off the hook, your phone can't ring. It's closed to incoming calls. This kind of trouble we can't prevent.

But when it happens, a signal is sent over the line to attract your attention. All you do is replace the receiver properly on the cradle. Now your phone can ring.

We hope this will make your telephone even more useful and of greater personal value.
